

THE FREEDOM PROGRAM

By Yvonne Cloete

Why Seek Freedom?

Personal growth is the biggest gift we can give ourselves. This means we understand our existence on Earth is to grow or to die. It's that simple.

"The point in history at which we stand is full of promise and danger. The world will either move forward toward unity and widely shared prosperity - or it will move apart..." By Franklin D. Roosevelt

Society never taught us how to live and love LIFE! Only how to earn a degree, go into debt, get married, reproduce, then work, work, and work, to have a two-week vacation, to repeat again next year...

FREEDOM IN LIFE

"Emancipate yourselves from mental slavery. None but ourselves can free our minds..." By Bob Marley

To grow, we need to change. We need to evolve.

Take a look at your life. You are aware your career and your business grow constantly, as your body grows from a baby, teen, adult, the same with your mind.

You most certainly are not the same person you were a year ago, even a month ago, and that is physically, psychologically, mentally, and emotionally.

We change every moment. Just as a flower or a tree has a specific cycle of growth. So, do we, but we have more to us than animals or plants.

We have emotions, we have a brain. A left brain and a right brain.

We have a mind, we've come to learn, live in the brain, and to top it off, we have a heart, where our emotions live in. Fascinating stuff, but who help us clean, heal or teach these two unseen forces.

Just because you can't see your mind, like you can with your body, it doesn't mean it's not there!

Just because you use your first five senses to see, feel, touch, smell, and even hear your body, it doesn't mean your mind or emotions can't be touched, can't be felt, can't be seen, can't be smelled, and can't be heard.

The other dormant unknown five senses, within you, resides in the right brain, will also use the known left-brain senses, in conjunction with the first five, you already have, to heighten YOU as a complete whole BEING.

Your logical left-brain or mind knows very little about the other five senses humans have, which most humans are completely unaware of. Yes! We have five more senses!

As humans, society ensured we only educate and medicate the left side of our brains, forcing us to neglect, fear, even eradicate, our abilities to use the right side of our brains.

In fact, to become FREE you must learn about these senses no one ever taught us about in school.

Some will say to me, "Wait a minute, you can feel your emotions," where I will say, "True, but it doesn't have to run your life!"

The biggest problem in today's society is... No one showed us how to deal with our emotions or our mind, or how to heal our emotions or our mind!

We are an unbalanced society, who made us fear our Sixth Sense, and who refused to teach us anything about a Seventh, Eighth, Ninth or Tenth Sense.

In fact, they ridiculed or made endless movies so we must fear it. Still today, there is an enormous stigma on and about "the unseen senses." Only the first five senses were educated to us, ignoring the other side of who we are!

Growing up for us, there were endless daily programs, rituals, habits, or patterns, like brushing our hair and teeth or tying our shoes were lovingly showed, guided, and taught to us by our parents or caregivers.

Yes, it was extremely hard at first, but then after a while, it became easy. So easy, it's now an ingrained habit we don't even notice anymore. But when it came to our emotions and our minds... complete silence.

The emotional support we got was, don't yell, don't scream, or cry in public, people will look at you funny. If you want to throw a tantrum, go do it alone in your room, where no one can see you.

Society, and everyone around us, since we came to Earth, showed us how to take care of our body. How to brush our teeth. How to shower, bath, exercise, or massage our body. Nothing, yes nada, about the mind or how to deal with our emotions!

Our physical bodies got all the attention and our parents prayed for the best when it came to our minds. No wonder the suicide, depression, drug overdose, and alcohol rates are astronomical, and especially now, after having to face a pandemic too.

Then we haven't even touched on the subject of relationships yet!

FREEDOM IN RELATIONSHIPS

"It's not necessary for you to exacerbate your contrast with struggle in order to get it into a higher place. It is not necessary to suffer in order to give birth to desire. But when you have suffered and you have given birth to desire, so what? You've got a desire. Turn your attention to the desire. Think about where you're going and never mind where you've been. Don't spend any more time justifying any of that stuff..." By Abraham through Esther Hicks.

We all know, our family and relationships develop every day. This growth doesn't show itself, the same way you can physically witness, with pictures and videos, how you changed, and grew throughout the years, again, from a tiny baby to an adult.

The growth or development of a relationship can't be seen the same way as you can witness your physical bones grow unless of course, you are a Princess Diana.

Princess Diana wanted to show the world her husband Prince Charles, did not love her and was cheating on her.

She made sure her physical demeanor showed the world something was wrong with her relationship. Especially when she sat at the Taj Mahal, in 1992, alone on the bench of the monument, which was built by a man, for his wife, as a show of love.

Aren't we all a Princess Diana?

She is one of my biggest idols, and I remember growing up, I watched her fairy tale marriage to Prince Charles and thought, true romance is real!

Here was this naïve, beautiful young girl, who wanted to marry her Prince.

Just as society taught us all, from our toddler age, in our fairytale animation movies...

Princess Diana, a real-life princess, was only a few years older than me, so the fairytale story became real for me.

Especially, after I watched her castle wedding, live on TV for hours and hours.

Saw her joy in having her two sons, saw her stand up for those who had no voice, in her Aids and landmine awareness campaigns.

She was my hero who had everything! She had love, freedom, money, fame, happiness. I wanted to be like her. I wanted her exact life even though I was no real-life princess.

Then, her emotional pain came, which showed in an eating disorder. Her loneliness, her pain to admit in a live interview, there were three people in her marriage.

It was heartbreaking to watch her emotional suffering and to watch her die in front of our eyes, on TV, shortly after finding a new love. How horrible!

I wanted to know everything about her. How did she cope? How did she not kill herself? The humiliation, to then be killed in a car accident, which could've been planned, and I learned of the word "conspiracy theory."

My obsession with mental and emotional suffering was born, and I was the outsider looking in until my own fairytale blew up in my face!

Here I was, an emotional and mental wreck. No one I knew could help me deal with the pain and heartache, unless, I had medical insurance or cash. Plus, I had to search for someone who would take my insurance, then pay the extra money, as the insurance only covers a small percentage, blah, blah, blah...

I also became one of those who got stuck in a past story. Blaming society, and everyone around me.

FREEDOM FROM EMOTIONS

"Mastering yourself is true power..." By Lao Tzu

As humans, we all get stuck in our stories, our past traumas, past hurt, not helping the mind or emotions to overcome these stories, because we either don't have the money, the insurance, or the parent, who have the training, who can help us.

God knows, it's like there is no one anywhere, unless you spend thousands of dollars, who can help us overcome emotional pain!

No one trained ANYONE in short simple habits, patterns, processes, rituals, how to deal with emotions, or our overreacting minds like we were taught how to brush our teeth or tie our shoes.

Our parents were as lost and alone with their own past trauma, pain, suffering, and hurtful events still stuck in their minds or emotional bodies. What a vicious cycle?

Unless, a university degree, will cost close to $100,000 or more, as I did, leaving a student debt for life, that served nothing, or no one at all, including me.

My daughter, a mental health professional, in Tampa, FL still today, wants the clients to return, as she has to pay monthly rent, to pay her employees, and to survive herself.

I worked for her briefly, a few years ago, and saw, as medical doctors, who don't treat the source, only the symptom, hoping the next symptom will show soon enough, for the client's quick return.

Throughout the years, she learned from me, some of my unconventional techniques, practices, and processes, integrating Ketamine infusions, to truly help her clients, giving them enormous value, as they have the gift of a therapist in person.

If you have a therapist, continue. There is enormous value in their service. Add this program, as an additional gift to FREEDOM. Just as you don't have one subject in school, to educate your left brain, use as much as you can to educate the right brain too.

Most of us don't need a full-time therapist. All we need to do is learn how to deal with our mental and emotional trash that's been accumulating for years and years, on a daily basis.

Give us tools we can use daily. Let us create new habits for the mind and emotions, just like we have a daily habit to brush our teeth and clean out our daily trash.

Just like I asked, when I laid on the bathroom floor crying, yelling, and screaming, "Is there no one out there who can help me?"

I searched and paid lots of money on self-help courses, even enrolled in school to get my degree in psychology, and I know that is why my daughter got her degree in psychology. She saw my emotional pain and felt helpless to help me!

A few years into my studies, I changed from regular Psychology into Industrial, Organizational Psychology, because I saw the techniques and methods, to diagnose and treat the mind and emotions were not something I could relate to, and I kept asking, “Why is there no one out there who can give us simple tips, tricks, habits, rituals, patterns, processes, we can use on a daily basis, for our minds and emotional bodies, the same we do on, and for, our physical bodies.

Why is everything so complicated, and so expensive?

All my years of suffering is finally over. I’ve learned many tips, tricks, habits, patterns, and processes that helped set me FREE!

I am stress-free, I am worry free, I am happy with being alone, as I am happy being with thousands of people.

I am FREE!

I can’t show you a commercial about a big bank balance. A fancy new expensive car, a huge house with a closet filled with shoes, expensive handbags, and a wardrobe with expensive designer clothes.

But what I can show you, is my small home, where I live with my middle daughter, on her farm, so I can be with my grandchildren, because that is where I am most happy!

I now choose where I live. I choose what I wear, I choose who I am with, I choose to fly, when I want, where I want to, or drive anywhere I want to, in a moment’s decision. I am not held back by any society, person, belief, or restriction.

I am FREE!

Feeling this happy and FREE, I realized I have to share with others what I have learned, and what cost me thousands and thousands of dollars in self-help courses.

It was not all easy, but I have learned!

After all, this is what we come here to do on this Earth, learn and share...

A saying I learned from Tony Robins, “Is to learn, write, teach, repeat.” This is why I wrote this program, to give others the same FREEDOM possible for all of us.

FREEDOM CONSTANTLY

"Freedom in any case, is only possible by constantly struggling for it..." By Albert Einstein

I am here to teach you, with this program, how to set your mind FREE and calm your emotions so YOU can be in control. Have constant freedom from stress, from worry, from fear, from depression, from your Monkey Mind.

That Monkey Mind that’s running the show for you. Constantly thinking and thinking and thinking. When you try to sleep it won’t shut up. When you try to meditate it runs in circles.

That Monkey Mind that never grew up.

I will give you proven and simple tricks, rituals, processes, habits, and systems that will help you to see where your Monkey Mind is now, and where it needs to be to experience FREEDOM.

Between now, and where it needs to go is a gap.

We will fill that gap with enough education that always lacked, as we were too busy educating the body, and the intellectual with its habits, rituals, systems, patterns, and processes, completely neglecting the emotional unseen forces, now known as the Monkey Mind.

We will look into, how to grow it up, from where it got stuck because that is why you are here in the first place.

This is exactly why you are stressed, why you are depressed, why you are lonely, why you are worried.

The mind did not grow as your career, body, or business did that you can physically see.

The mind seems stuck in its own little age, of going around and around in circles, running on a wheel, going nowhere.

As we grow tall in ego, we grow less in spirit. As we grow more in spirit, we need less in ego.

Where do you want to grow?

Do you want to grow the ego or do you want to expand the Soul?

Remember, when you gift yourself with FREEDOM, from mental slavery, you flourish.

In the FREEDOM program, you will learn from Day 1 to pivot your usual path to a new perspective. A new outlook, a new story, a new future. A new LIFE of FREEDOM!

Below is a brief outline of the FREEDOM program syllabus.

The Freedom Program Syllabus

Week 1:

Creating a New Contrasting Story

As humans we relive our past over and over in our minds. Even our sickness, our joys, a childbirth, a child's school victory, a sudden death, a car accident, a divorce, a wedding, etc.

We create a story around it, so we can tell others exactly how it happened. Most people get stuck in a certain story, and don't live past it.

We would want to know the difference between a worthwhile story to tell or see the difference in a story we want to relive daily, that could be hurting us.

You see, as humans we are master creators. We even create our very next move of how we will live today from our mind. For instance: When we plan to go for an interview the next day, we begin to plan what we wear, what we will say, how we will act. We begin to create a story in our mind. That is what we do.

We are story tellers.

But there is a contrast in our stories we will focus on and begin to identify.

Without contrast, how will we know it's opposite?

If you do not know pain, how will we know the relief of pain. If we have never experienced aggravation, how will we know fascination. If we didn't know boredom growing up, how will we know what it feels like to have immense interest. If we didn't experience negative emotions, how will we know the positive emotions.

As humans we live with contrast daily.

The purpose of contrast is to expand as a human. We get so caught up in the drama of the contrast!

So, if we have a traumatic story, we relive it over and over.

When we have a happy story, we take pictures, selfies, and share it everywhere on social media, and that's it, onto the next happy picture. We don't relive that one over and over.

But as humans, we tend to get so caught up in the drama of the pain after a traumatic experience such as an accident, a divorce, a disease, a cheating, etc. We tell ourselves, and everyone else listening or not, that hurtful story over and over, reinforcing that pain, and hurt, suffering each time, over and over.

So, immediately in day one, we divorce our old stories.

We will go into a practice to create a new story after deliberately identifying that story we keep telling ourselves.

No more. We will create a new contrasting story.

You will receive a link to our Facebook Page where you will meet your tribe.

Here you will interact and share your stories. In this group we will allow you to crawl out of your shell and show yourself. Show your old story and then together we all co-create a new contrasting story for ourselves.

It will be fun to meet new people and to share our struggles as well as our victories, and to watch each other as we embark on this exciting new journey to FREEDOM.

Bonus Materials Included: Articles- All of Me ~ My Story and I'm Sticking to it. Introductions to Bonus Materials, Healing Breath Meditation, and Radio Show Audios.

Week 2:

Change or Pivot Now

Einstein said, insanity is doing the same thing over and over expecting different results. To change we need to pivot. It's hard to find the correct definition of pivot, but to me, pivot means rapid change or better yet, to rapidly change your course.

For instance; when you pick up a stick, it has two ends, right. If you move to the side of pessimism, with thoughts like, "it can't be done" or "how do I do it now, I'm too old for change. Or, "it's never been done," or mine, I've overused, "I don't have the time or money!"

To pivot is to turn that heel on that stick, face the opposite way of that stick, and change!

You've been on that side of the stick for far too long. It's time to pivot and do the opposite. Trust me, I've been there, done that, and I know you are there too, or you will not be here with me now.

Through my years of training, I've learned there are four basic but dramatic principles of change.

When you have a car, you don't just have a steering wheel, or just tires, you have many components of pieces that make up that car, that will ultimately move you from A to Z.

We will dive into as many components as we can, to make up an amazing car for you, that will move you from where you are now to where you want to be!

The four most dramatic principles of change are as follows:

1. Psychology- Mental Health
2. Physiology- Physical Health
3. Processes- Patterns or Habits
4. Strategy - Action

Psychology: Mental Health

Being an Optimist vs Pessimist, or Positive vs Negative.

An optimist will view life with a positive outlook, while a pessimist will tend to expect the worst out of life. A pessimist will have low expectations about life while an optimist tends to have high expectations of what life has to offer.

You choose, but it is not a one-time choice.

Being a positive person requires work because we all grew up in a society expecting the worse.

Look around you at what you usually focus on. Are you an optimist or a pessimist? Are you generally a positive or a negative person?

When you become aware of your thoughts, your actions, your habits, your patterns, you will begin to see a clear picture forming, of who you've been, to know who you can become.

Physiology: Physical Health

Exercises for the physical body. Treat your body like a Cadillac not like a rental car. We trash rental cars because we feel we don't care because we don't own it. Imagine your body as your Cadillac you now own after years of renting.

What fuel will you use? The cheapest to just get you there for a few years. No, you want this expensive vehicle to last you for a while, while looking sharp and being everyone else's envy.

Have you seen a person driving a Cadillac lately?

People stare, people want, people dream, people envy, people are jealous, judging, wishing, but imagine for one second, what would you feel, if it was you? Proud as hell! Right!

You brush your teeth every day since your mom enforced that habit since childhood. You take a shower or clean out your trash every day.

Then do that physical muscle training every day. Not just for your physical health but for your mental health too.

You don't need a gym membership. Use these simple but powerful exercises everyday which will be no more than 20 minutes a day. What does 20 minutes a day on social media do for you?

Processes: Patterns and Habits

If you have a good mental health, and you are a very positive person, but you don't have good habits this world of ours will turn your positive thoughts into negative thoughts very quickly.

We were born into a world of chaos.

Our first job as a human species was to bring order to the chaotic wild Earth. Many human species did not and could not survive.

The animals were in a greater chaotic pattern of survival of the fittest and were bigger and scarier than the humans. But the homo sapiens were “smart” enough to leave clues on cave walls, on how to survive, and here we are in 2020, quite a few years later. We have survived some pretty chaotic decades, don’t you think?

There is a huge difference between today, and a thousand years ago, but one thing is certain, chaos is still with us. If you do not clean your house, your yard, your body, and your life, constantly, you will quickly see chaos in its full glory.

It’s not a bad thing. It’s our Mother Earth, doing what she knows best. Survive herself, by taking back all that doesn’t grow. If there is no growth, there is death, and she will absorb it.

As humans, we know without solid, repetitive habits and patterns, chaos will return.

Just look at our history, and we can see clear patterns because of solid habits. The same with the mind. We need good habits to stay positive. To stay optimistic, to continue to evolve, or we will die in a chaotic negative environment within our minds, and then, it will show in our physical bodies.

Strategy: Action

When you learn something that helped you so much, it’s innate to want to share what you’ve just learned. But most only talk about what they’ve learned, and the process will stop there.

To take action we need motivation to do. Without doing something you have nothing. You can read and learn all you want, but until you teach others or help others, you didn’t take action. You do not have to save the world. To just teach your children, or one other person in your life is action enough!

It is taking what you read, (your thoughts) put them into words, (what you talk about), and teaching (doing), is the action.

To do, you will need systems, structures, and strategies of how to teach others. Only then have we completed the creation process. Only a few will write about it, add to it, and form it in a system to teach, and that is okay.

Not everyone is a writer, not everyone is a poet, not everyone is a painter, and it doesn’t mean you have to become a new best-selling writer, or teacher.

You will most likely turn your new attitude, your new out-look on life, into whatever talent you have. Maybe paint, sing, or dance about it.

However way you choose to express YOU, we will focus on recreating what we’ve learned to teach it to others.

That is how we survive. Us writing it in books, sing, dance, or paint, even making programs about it, is the figures on the cave wall.

If we all stop sharing what we have learned, our species will stop existing.

Bonus Materials Included: Articles- Find You, The True You, Importance of Gratitude, Existence on Earth Explained by Adrian Cooper, Stress Relief Meditation. Radio Show Podcast discussing “Spirit Answers.”

Week 3:

Know Thy Self

Have you ever driven your car home and you suddenly get home, freaking out, or thinking, “Wow! I totally zoned out!”

How did I even get home?” Not remembering the actual drive!

This is your “other” brain, (the right side) of your brain at work.

Yes, there is more to you, than just a left side of your brain.

Just as you have your first five senses from your left brain, where you see, smell, touch, taste, and feel.

You have five senses from your right brain too, starting with the sixth sense. Yes, you have four more!

It is your sixth sense. It’s not just about seeing dead people like in the Bruce Willis movie, “I See Dead People” but rather, the first sense, from your right side of your brain.

Now you know why they call it the sixth sense, after the first five senses, from your left brain.

We were told by society to fear our other senses or ridicule it, or to not believe in it, for a reason.

We are only now waking up “sensing” there is more to our reality and our environment than we were taught.

This is the shift.

This is the change we are seeing and experiencing right now, throughout Earth, and not just in one part of the globe, but on every corner of our Earth.

Exciting time to be alive and witnessing it all! Don’t you agree?

Imagine a new Earth, were we, as a well-balanced society, use ALL of our 10 senses and not just 5. Wow!

What an Earth it would be!

But for right now, wouldn’t you love to know if you are more left brained orientated, or is your right brain completely dormant?

Do you use both your brains equally, or are you unbalanced, like the majority of humans on Earth?

Bonus Materials Included: Articles- Duality and The Ego, Dream Journal, The Mystery of Reincarnation by Adrian Cooper. A Problem Resolved Meditation Audio. Radio Show Podcast discussing “Soul Contracts and Patterns.” Shannon Burke Radio Show, interviewing me as a Medium, and Dream Interpreter.

Week 4:

The Force Within

Einstein gave us the most famous equation in mathematics called relativity, $E = mc^2$ which means "energy equals mass times the speed of light squared."

It shows that energy (E) and mass (m) are interchangeable; they are different forms of the same thing.

In layman's terms, its energy on a different frequency. If everything is energy, then as humans we need to focus on this energy also known as Quantum Energy.

Quantum Energy is a force so powerful, which is the same as the barrier between positive and negative ions wanting to collide, found in the center of a magnet.

This positive and negative power, which give power to a small battery in the microcosm, is the same force, in the macrocosm, as the source of creation, of ALL that is.

A force known as magnetism, always found present in the center or core of two opposing energies, forcing balance, if you choose so, of your own power.

Source, which is ALL, is not "just" this magnetic force, or the center, or one of the two opposing sides. It is ALL that is.

Another example: If you look at the Sun, and you want to equate Source to the Sun, then the rays of the Sun is the Sun too. The same with Source. It simply is ALL that is. It is the sun and the rays, not just one.

Then, if energy is different forms, on different frequencies, we must also look at the different energies within ourselves too. We are both energies. Not just female in a female body, or a male in a male body. We are each, a male and female energy within a female body as both in a male body. Just as the two sides of our brains we learned about in our previous lesson.

In Week Three, we learned of the two sides of our brains. Well, these two brains have an energy too.

The Left Brain is the Male Energy.

The Right Brain is the Female Energy.

Just as we have two energies within us, (besides the personality or ego, we have created since birth, which astrologist will eagerly tell you are grouped within star signs, following our birth dates), these two energies are best described in the well-known book, "Men are from Mars, Women are from Venus" by John Gray.

But, more of these two energies in Week Five.

Bonus Materials Included: Articles explaining~ Freedom, Meditation Explained, The Autobiography of My Meditation by James Altucher, Being the Change by Adrian Cooper. Radio Show Podcast discussing "Conversations with Spirit."

Week 5:

Male vs Female Energies

According to Google, Earth is roughly 4. 543 billion years old. We have only counted to 2020.

We are now moving into the next cycle of our evolution. For more than 2000 years the strong male energy ruled to survive.

As Homo-sapiens we needed this strong male energy to help us survive as a species. We did. Our next cycle is now approaching.

We must now move from the strong male energy into the more compassionate female energy as a collective human species.

We must evolve from the stronger, fight for survival, male energy, to the more compassionate, loving, female energy, where we will not have the need to want to go to war, hate, discriminate, build walls, or show our power, to protect what is ours, or kill others for their oil.

It doesn't mean we will become a weak society, race, country, or human beings.

It means we will become more accepting of others, we will become more nurturing, more tolerating, and more compassionate, yet still be very, very strong by not allowing any more of the old stuff to control or fight for survival.

Have you ever seen a female (of any race or animal) fight for her off-spring? That is who we ALL, (male and female) will become.

What is happening on Earth needs to happen!

Embrace the change, embrace the individual "fights" to stand up against any abuse, discrimination, narcissistic chauvinistic sexism, to keep the one more than, or less than, the other.

The one race, sex, or choice of being, is not right or wrong, strong or weak, better or worse than the other, it's just DIFFERENT.

Once we moved from this old energy, to the new energy, we will further evolve to realize we are all ONE!

Stay focused on the big picture even though it hurts to witness all the individual stuff playing out.

We have to each overcome all which is hidden, in and on our own individual levels first, before we can collectively overcome, all that doesn't serve humanity's evolution anymore, to heal from it!

Governments are collapsing. We were forced into our homes, wearing masks. Our world is split, in groups, right before our eyes.

So much is all coming to the surface. How will we know what we need to heal, if we are not forced to watch, and see all, that is hidden within our collective society and deep within our small selves.

All the darkness needs to come to light. All those who are asleep need to wake up. The dawn is almost done, the sun is approaching.

Bonus Materials Included: Articles- COVID-19 Answer, The Truth Will Set You Free, My 20/20 Vision, The Nature of Suffering by Adrian Cooper. Radio Show Podcast discussing "Dream Interpretation." Shannon Burke Radio Show, interviewing me as a Medium, and Dream Interpreter.

Week 6:

Quantum Energy Healing

Quantum Energy Healing is my most favorite topic. It is the use of different energies to heal yourself and others you love.

The two energies of healing from the quantum field, I use the most, are the energies of love and light, and the purple violet flame.

If you envision the blue energy of the male, the father, the source, come down your left side to connect with the pink energy, of the mother deep down in the core of Earth, to come back up on the right side of your body, to meet within your heart and merge into a purple energy.

This merging of the powerful blue energy from our Source, (the beginning point) with the powerful pink energy from Mother Earth, is also known as the purple violet flame healing energy.

This purple violet flame energy is also called the Christ energy, which is a very powerful healing energy, I will include in your Bonus Materials the “Light Body Activation” audio using this powerful violet flame. A recording I made years ago which I know will still serve today.

Einstein reminded us everything is energy by giving us; relativity is $E=mc^2$ which, like I mentioned before in laymen’s terms means reality is energy on a different frequency.

Then let’s look at energy and its creation first, so we can understand how to heal that which we don’t want and that which cause us pain and suffering to manifest and create more calmness and peace through Quantum Energy Healing.

The male energy is the ego, Soul within the identity of man, who is the protector, the strong will; the powerful force that wants to expand and find its co-creator, out of him comes the seed. His energy has a deep blue color. Has a strong powerful tone.

The female energy is love, the creator, out of her comes the tangible end product of the union of what is in her, once she received the male seed. Her energy is a soft pink with a softer, gentler tone.

The union of these two energies has the most beautiful mixture of tones that is a deep violet flame that has so much more power than when separated.

The child energy is the Christ consciousness, an energy that is a soft golden mixture of softer tones because it has an added energy than the two blue and pink from its parents.

The Child (Christ) energy comes from its father, the human mind, the blue power, the protector, into and through its mother, the creator, the heart, the pink love, the gentler, calm, energy to transform these two into its own, by not being any of the two but from the two, not more of this one, and less of that one, but its own, unique golden hue, of knowing it has the strength of both but also the gift of self!

The golden hue is the consciousness of knowing, “I am from my Father in my Mother...” The purple violet flame is an energy healing gift given to humanity, using the combined male and female energies.

The heart AND the mind, to find or search, for what is more through choice, to get to the inner third eye.

Bonus Materials Included: Articles- The 7 Levels of Awakening, When is it Ego and When is it Soul, Our Ten Senses Explained, The Quanta by Adrian Cooper. Light Body Activation Meditation Audio. Shannon Burke Radio Show, interviewing me as a Medium, and Dream Interpreter.

Week 7:

The Third Eye

The Third Eye is the most important part of the FREEDOM Program because it explains so much of the non-physical (spiritual), eastern philosophy of the human non-physical chakras, to then dive deeper into the explanation and the importance of the Third Eye.

To dive into the Third Eye without exploring the other important chakras, is like believing you only have a non-physical father and the mother is not as important, or the grandfather “clock” (time), and the grandmother (plant medicine), is non-existent.

Just as the wind is very powerful or softly blowing where you witness the evidence of the wind but cannot physically take the wind and put it in a cup to show someone you just caught the wind.

We all know the wind does exist as we can clearly see its evidence, the same with all the chakra systems of the human body.

Western society is now learning to look for the wind in these chakra systems and the more we look into its existence the more evidence is showing itself. The same with the power of the Third Eye.

The first step in your intuitive development of your Third Eye, is within a deep-rooted understanding that there is information beyond your conscious rational that will show itself to you, once you bridge that huge gap from your imagination, towards your intuition, before that sixth sense will open itself to you.

To move from your physical five senses towards the first sense from the non-physical known as the sixth sense, will take practice. Most of us never used that sense, and even if we tried as a child, we were quickly told to never talk about seeing “imaginary friends” or to “forget about it because it is not real, just your imagination” or Hollywood made sure we feared it with the Poltergeist scary horror movies.

To learn to tap into the Third Eye or your Sixth Sense, you must learn to use your imagination to experience the first five senses within your “mind’s eye” before this sense will show you possibilities you’ve never thought possible but rather from a Higher Self perspective than from the left linguistical, critical, ego mind.

For instance, if you imagine or visualize a place within your mind such as a beach or park scene, you create an internal setting from where to access or interact with you Sixth Sense (intuition), from your imagination.

If I tell you to think about a banana or an apple, you don’t physically have that fruit in your hand. But if I tell you to pretend or visualize you are holding that fruit in your hand, and I guide you towards biting into it, tasting it, even smelling it, your imagination will guide you into experiencing the fruit almost exactly as if you do have the fruit in your hand.

Now this space is where you would want to “create” or visualize a better future for yourself too, as the subconscious mind doesn’t know the difference between what you consider “real” or imagined. Especially if you FEEL it’s already in existence.

The bridge from your imagination towards your intuition, to reach your Third Eye, is a huge gap we need to climb over before the full potential of your sixth sense or the activation of the Third Eye will show itself.

We also know our current lifestyles diminish the use of our Third Eye through what we eat (dead meat), or what’s been added to our water supply (fluoride), to calcify the pineal and pituitary glands before the sixth, seventh, eighth, ninth, or tenth sense can even begin to be discovered.

We will however learn about the 7 traditional chakras but will concentrate on filling the gap between the imagination towards the third eye, and with practice, even better eating and drinking habits too, might reverse the damage already done to the third eye, to find the balance between the left and the right to ultimately live from the balanced middle point, our Soul, to experience true FREEDOM.

With all these tools and lessons our ultimate goal would be to find peace, joy, and to live in FREEDOM.

It is possible. Let’s co-create FREEDOM and allow me to help set you FREE.

Bonus Materials Included: Articles- “In Money We Trust” by Adrian Cooper. Radio Show Podcast “Moving from Carbon to Crystalline Based Humans.” YouTube Video of Sadgurhu on “Manifest Whatever You Want and the Monkey Mind.” Short Facebook Video about “The Third Eye.” Introduction to Violet Flame Chakra Energy Healing Hypnosis audio, Violet Flame Chakra Energy Healing Hypnosis, Violet Flame Chakra Energy Healing Transcript, FAQs, Dreams, and Advice E-Book.

Week 8:

Final Week, Questions, and Dream Discussions

Our final week we will go over any remaining questions, even do some dream interpretations for class members, as well as having extra time, to go over all we have learned in the past weeks together.

Bonus Materials Included: My E-Book, “See The Gift Not The Curse.” Meeting Your Guide Mediation, and “Y Do We Dream” E-book. And my final gift, as Steve Jobs did who gave this book, literally from the dead, to all those he loved, “Autobiography of a Yogi” by Paramhansa Yogananda.